

hanit[®] – the material from recycled plastics
The economical alternative for industrial applications!

Selected profiles, finished parts and systems for industrial construction

Industrial developments require constant innovation. Our recycled material hanit[®] today increasingly replaces the traditionally used materials wood, steel, metal, concrete and primary plastics.